4. Discussion

   a. Bookstore Operations Update:

      Peer-to Peer Learning with Luvo (available now for students)

      How it Works

      Through Luvo, students draw from each other’s knowledge via one-to-one tutoring, group tutoring sessions, videos and supplemental study materials. Students lead the way in creating, sharing and setting prices for the materials and support they provide. Since all resources on Luvo are course or campus-specific, students can find content that is most relevant for them.

      Digital YUZO now available for digital textbooks

      Yuzu is a free learning platform that lets you read and interact with your digital content wherever you are.
New Bookstore App

The app offers a brand new way for students to connect with the bookstore, making their shopping experience easy and convenient.

Features
- Order Tracking
- Rental Reminders
- Exclusive Access
- Event Notification

Additional Information
The Fall 2015 semester did not go all that well.
Challenges were with the addition of late added classes (14 week, 12 week etc.)
Bookstore was not always informed for the books for these classes.

The Bookstore was unaware of classes using Open Educational Resource (OER), online books. The result was 163 classes not requiring a book.

Thanks to the Admin Assistants and Staff the bookstore orders are 10% ahead for where they were last year at this time.

b. Committee Feedback
The book store should be informed of late added classes with the book requirement.
An email to the Bookstore or go into the computer system to do so.
