Program Philosophy

The NOVA WDD Certified Clinical Medical Assistant (CCMA) faculty supports the mission and vision statements of the college as well as a commitment to life-long learning and a belief in educational mobility and accessibility. NOVA WDD CCMA Program believes in establishing a collaborative and supportive learning environment through developing student-faculty relationships which are based on trust and mutual respect. Medical Assistant faculty believes that learning is an active process that is facilitated by role-modeling and encompassing the students in a variety of clinical, classroom and simulated settings. Learning is further enhanced by the use of a variety of teaching methods to accommodate different learning styles and actively engage the student in the teaching/learning process. Medical Assistant Program believes that students and faculty are responsible for the outcomes of learning. Medical Assistant education and the practice of medical assisting are based upon an understanding of the human person which is learned in general education courses. The student medical assistant builds upon this knowledge in medical assisting theory and utilizes problem solving to apply concepts and facts to medical assistant practice in varied clinical and laboratory settings. We believe in providing planned medical assistant experiences to enable the students to achieve learning outcomes and develop clinical competence.

Student Code of Conduct & Student Behavior

By enrolling at NOVA, a student accepts its policies and procedures and acknowledges the right of NOVA to take action, up to and including suspension or expulsion in response to misconduct. It is a student’s responsibility to become familiar with the student code of conduct. Lack of awareness is no excuse for noncompliance with NOVA’s policies and procedures. Students enrolled in the College assume an obligation to conduct themselves in a manner that is civil and compatible with the College’s function as an educational institution. As a member of the NOVA student body, you are considered to be a responsible adult. Here are examples of disruptive student conduct for which a student may be subject to disciplinary action include but are not necessarily limited to the following:

- Talking during lectures and disrespectful conduct to instructor
- Cell phones ringing in the middle of lecture
- Arriving to class late or no show
- Arguing or debating with other students in the class
- Speaking rudely to instructor or classmates
- Sleeping in class
• Text messaging in class
• Unprofessional, gender-condescending or racial slurs
• Shouting out answers and classroom sabotage

The credibility of a health care professional is based, to a large extent, on maintaining a high degree of trust between the professional and the individuals he or she serves. Each health profession has a code of professional conduct administered by a professional organization or regulatory agency that prescribes and imposes high standards of conduct and principles of professionalism upon its members. Students must understand and adhere to these standards during their education in preparation for careers in which they must conduct themselves in the manner expected by their profession. Consequently, students in the health care colleges have a particular obligation to conduct themselves at all times in a manner that reflects appropriate professional moral and ethical character.

If you are in violation of conduct or behavior policy, you will receive a Disciplinary Warning: A warning to a student that his/her conduct was questionable and/or inappropriate and that further misconduct will result in more severe disciplinary action. Disciplinary warning may include a behavior agreement or contract.

If you receive a 2nd violation, you will be dismissed from the program and you will receive a Failing grade and you will not be issued a refund.

Academic Integrity

When College officials award credit, degrees, and certificates, they must assume the absolute integrity of the work students have done; therefore, it is important that students maintain the highest standard of honor in their scholastic work. The College does not tolerate academic dishonesty. Students who are not honest in their academic work will face disciplinary action along with any grade penalty the instructor imposes. In extreme cases, academic dishonesty may result in dismissal from the College. Academic dishonesty, as a general rule, involves one of the following acts:

• Cheating on an examination or quiz, including giving, receiving, or soliciting information and the unauthorized use of notes or other materials during the examination or quiz;
• Buying, selling, stealing, or soliciting any material purported to be the unreleased contents of a forthcoming examination, or the use of such material;
• Substituting for another person during an examination or allowing another person to take the student’s place;
• Plagiarizing, which means taking credit for another person’s work or ideas. This includes copying another person’s work either word-for-word or in substance without acknowledging the source;
- Accepting help from or giving help to another person to complete an assignment, unless the instructor has approved such collaboration in advance;
- Knowingly furnishing false information to the College; forgery and alteration or use of College documents or instruments of identification with the intent to defraud.

Attendance and class participation is a major part of your grade. Students must attend 90% of their classes. Attendance and participation is weighted at 50% of your total grade.

If you are more than 20 minutes late to class, you will be marked tardy. Being tardy 3 times is equivalent to 1 absence. There is no distinction between “excused” and “unexcused” absences, use your absences wisely in case an emergency occurs.

If you miss more than 14 hours of class you will be dismissed from the program and you will receive a Failing grade and you will not be issued a refund.

If you are participating in the WCG grant and you are dropped from the program due to absences or any other disciplinary reason, you will be responsible for paying the remainder of your tuition. Please reference your signed agreement.

All externship assignments are final and remain at the discretion of the Clinical Coordinator and the College. Students are assigned to local medical provider for a 160 hour rotation. The hours are typically 40 hours per week during business hours. You may not do part-time, a few hours here or there, only on weekends or when you feel like it.

2. Student agrees to provide a Resume to their assigned Clinical Coordinator no less than 3 weeks following initial contact. Failure to provide such resume will result in withdrawal from the externship section of the course. If you do not meet with your clinical preceptor when assigned, you will not be reassigned another clinical.
