Courses that May Satisfy Basic Major Prerequisites*

¹Dual enrollment courses may not be used to fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences First Writing or Foreign Language requirements. SAT, AP, IB courses may qualify however. See <http://artsandsciences.virginia.edu/undergrad/requirements/index.html> for detailed information.

²While VCCS language courses will receive transfer credit as equivalent UVa courses, the DEAL-LC programs may still place students in lower-level language courses depending on student scores on departmental language placement tests.

³If either or both of these courses are taken as dual enrollment, you must also take ENG 210 (Advanced Composition) in order to qualify for guaranteed admission under the UVa-VCCS guaranteed admission agreement.

⁴Transferable courses can be found using the Transfer Credit Evaluator at <http://saz-webdmz.eservices.virginia.edu/asequivs/>

⁵Literature courses may be in Classics, Comparative Literature, English Lit, or Foreign Lit. See the transfer credit evaluator in footnote 4 for equivalences.

⁶Courses that fulfill the Non-Western Perspective requirement are so noted on the Transfer Credit Evaluator in footnote 4.

* This major is offered by the Department of East Asian Languages, Literatures and Culture. For more information on the major, please visit: http://www.virginia.edu/deallc/degreetransfer_programs_major_lang&lit.html

* Linguistics majors come into the program through a number of different paths. Many come through the study of particular foreign languages; others come through the study of anthropology, cognitive psychology, or applied fields such as speech pathology or education. Experience in any of these areas, as well as in the study of an ancient or non-European language (e.g., Latin or Arabic) would be helpful background for students interested in majoring in Linguistics.

Contact the Linguistics Program Director at the address listed on the Program course web page if you wish to consult about majoring in Linguistics at UVa.

Students will need to have taken one Linguistics course before declaring the major. Please visit the Linguistics Program website for more information:

Courses that May Satisfy
Basic Major Requirements*

¹ If either or both of these courses are taken as dual enrollment, you must also take ENG 210 (Advanced Composition) in order to qualify for guaranteed admission under the UVa-VCCS guaranteed admission agreement.

² Dual enrollment courses may not be used to fulfill the College of Arts and Sciences First Writing or Foreign Language requirements. SAT, AP, IB courses may qualify however. See <http://artsandsciences.virginia.edu/undergrad/requirements/index.html> for detailed information.

³ First-year foreign language courses at VCCS count as 5 credit hours per semester but only transfer to UVa as 4 credit hours each.

⁴ Transferable courses can be found using the Transfer Credit Evaluator at <http://saz-webdmz.eservices.virginia.edu/asequivs/>

⁵ Literature courses may be in Classics, Comparative Literature, English Lit, or Foreign Lit. See the transfer credit evaluator in footnote 4 for equivalences.

⁶ Courses that fulfill the Non-Western Perspective requirement are so noted on the Transfer Credit Evaluator in footnote 4.
